Election/Restrictions

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 1-16, 138, 139 and 141, drawn to a method of determining a comparative expression profile wherein multidimensional coordinate points, representative of expression levels of molecules are compared, and a computer system, and computer-readable medium therefore, classified in class 702, subclass 19.
- II. Claims 17-32, 58-64 and 140, drawn to a second method of determining comparative expression profiles wherein expression levels of a sample of molecules are directly compared, and a computer-readable media therefore, classified in class 702, subclass 20.
- III. Claims 33-57, 135-137, drawn to a third method of determining a comparative expression profile, wherein levels of "a molecule" are compared, and computer systems therefore, classified in class 702, subclass 22.
- IV. Claims 65-134, drawn to methods of diagnosing a health state or disease using comparative expression profiles, classified in class 128, subclass 923.
- V. Claims 142-143, drawn to carrier waves, unclassifiable.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Each of Inventions I-IV are separate and distinct methods comprising differing steps, and having differing goals. Each of the methods require differing information, and have differing steps of obtaining, analyzing and using that information. For example, methods of diagnosing a health state require steps over and above the analysis steps required in other methods, and requires consideration of issues not necessary for other inventions. As such, the inventions are distinct and would pose an undue burden upon the examiner if not restricted.

Invention V is separate and distinct from each of inventions I-IV as it is drawn to a carrier wave or radio wave. This is a differing category of invention, and non of the preceding inventions require the use or search of carrier wave technology. As such, the inventions are distinct and would pose an undue burden upon the examiner if not restricted.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art because of their recognized divergent subject matter, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Art Unit: 1631

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
